

For the past 5 years now we here at Claude Resources Seabee Gold Mine have been purchasing equipment from RDH. It started out with one electric hydraulic jumbo drill that is still in production to this day working as well as it did when we got it. We have bought new and rebuilt equipment from RDH and no matter what ever happened with the equipment the staff at RDH was always more than helpful to get us back up and running. Every year we bought equipment RDH has always been the sought after manufacturer for us for various reasons. The very competitive price, the great service and the quality equipment they build is what kept us and will keeps us dealing with them for years to come. RDH has a well-stocked parts department that is always ready to send us the parts we require in a very timely manner. As a maintenance superintendent I am proud to tell people that 70% of my mining equipment came from RDH and I would suggest that anybody that's in the market for good quality mining equipment to seriously consider RDH.
